DJ-VHA160C

The DC Inverter Electrical Heating Upsetter Machine is designed for manufacturing mold ejector pins used in molds, staple merchandise, and plastic machinery industries. It aligns with the automation and intelligent production trends.

It boasts high quality and a 100% yield rate, meeting the stringent requirements for mold ejector pin manufacturing. The machine features a newly designed servo motor upper electrode driven system and feeding system, reducing mold-changing time by 50% and increasing productivity by over three times. With no standby time, it offers automatic feeding and unloading capabilities.
